

Community Cafe Volunteer

Kitchen Helper Role

The Big Feed Project brings people together over food, by providing a safe, welcoming space at our community cafes. People can enjoy a hearty meal whilst meeting and spending time with others in their community. The cafes offer free meals, meaning money is no barrier to having a nutritious warm meal.

By having community cafes in areas of need, we are able to combine the fight against food waste, food poverty and social isolation all at once! This is made possible with the help of volunteers.

Volunteering as a kitchen helper, you'll work side by side with our kitchen staff in one of our cafes turning surplus food into tasty meals that we give out for free.

Volunteering at a cafe could cover everything from planning, prepping and cooking the meals, to handing them out over the counter.

The cafes are a hub of creativity, full of laughter, chat and people who have a real love of food. You'll be working with a staff team who take responsibility for overall delivery, and keeping everyone safe.

As a community cafe volunteer, you can expect:

- Full training and induction to volunteering on the project and each task
- To be kept in the loop about plans for the project and good news stories
- Travel Expenses covered in line with our Volunteer Handbook
- Any training that is required by the role (e.g. food hygiene and manual handling)
- To always have a point of contact should you have any questions
- The opportunity to build skills and confidence through an individual development plan

We are looking for volunteers who:

- Love food and feeding people
- Are creative and like thinking on their feet
- Enjoy being part of a hard working team
- Enjoy a fast paced environment with a healthy buzz
- Want to spend time with other people and get stuck in to community focused work

If you regularly cook at home, have professional experience or just want to be more involved in food waste, this role would be perfect for you!
